

We get numerous telemarketer calls every day. Even after we have told the company we weren't interested, they call back again and again with the exact same offer. I just filed a complaint against MCI who have called back after being told twice to put us on their Do Not Call List. Laws need to be changed with these annoying people.